This Week in the Law School

We're thrilled to welcome in Stephen Befort for Wednesday's Stewart Lecture. Attendance was stellar for last week's Fuchs Lecture and we hope you'll attend this one as well. Prof. Befort will continue our streak of timely and topical subject matters: His lecture focuses on the decline of the American workforce. Please join us on Wednesday at noon.

Barristers' Ball is on Friday. This annual event is named in honor of Rapheal M. Prevot, Jr., a beloved alumnus of our school who passed away in 2008. In advance of the Law School's signature social event of the year, ILA would invite you to take a minute to learn a bit about Mr. Prevot and his amazing life.

Thanks to the Feminist Law Forum and everyone who participated in Keeping the Momentum. The response surpassed the group's goals by a landslide, raising $2,215 in cash donations. Great job!

In honor of Black History Month, last week's CSO Coffee & Careers trivia contest featured the accomplishments of several African-American alumni. Congratulations to Philip Koranteng, Trevor Gresham, LaShaila Spivey, and Andrew Berman for their winning answers. See the digital display in the Main Lobby where we highlight some of our distinguished alumni. We'll see you at next month's Coffee & Careers on March 7!

Monday, February 12

Max by Access Lex: Five Steps to a Better Credit Score

Your credit score affects your life in many ways. Whether you want to reduce the interest rates you pay on loans, plan to buy a house someday, or just want to take a smart step toward passing the character and fitness piece of the bar, this workshop is for you. You'll learn what goes into your credit score, how information about your financial life is tracked, and what actions you can take to build and safeguard your credit. Get ready to learn strategies to maximize your credit score and the financial and professional opportunities that go with it. Moot Court Room, noon.

QTIPS Workshop: Social Media and LinkedIn Check-up

Bring your laptop and we'll take a few minutes to talk about how to get the most out of social media, engage in best practices, and review your LinkedIn profile. If you can't make Monday's session this event will repeat on Tuesday. Room 124, 12:30 p.m.

Live from Baier Hall: Harpist Beste Toparlak

Enjoy the soothing sounds of harpist Beste Toparlak over the lunch hour in the Main Lobby.

IP Practitioner-in-Residence: Joseph Dages

Joseph Dages, '11, of Middleton-Reutlinger, will be on campus today as part of the CIPR's IP Practitioner-in-Residence program. In addition to attending IP classes, Joe will be giving a lunch talk and will be available to meet with students throughout the day. He is a director at Middleton-Reutlinger where he helps companies and individuals protect their important brands domestically and internationally, as well as assists artists, authors, and entrepreneurs safeguard and leverage the value of their creative works. Joe concentrates his practice in the areas of trademark, copyright, and Internet law. He has experience in prosecution as well as monitoring and enforcement of trademarks, copyrights, and domain names. Joe also handles legal matters involving advertising, software and technology, privacy, and licensing, and helps clients resolve disputes involving their intellectual property assets. Room 213, noon.

PAD 1L Meeting

Calling all Phi Alpha Delta 1L members: We are preparing for our annual philanthropic event and we need your help! This meeting is mandatory if you are a registered 1L PAD member. Pizza lunch will be provided. Room 122, noon.

Curricular Practical Training Information Session for International JD and Graduate Students

International JD students and graduate students who are planning on doing a paid or unpaid legal externship during their law studies should attend this information session hosted by Dean Catherine Matthews and Dean Lesley Davis. We will explain the different aspects of curricular practical training, including planning for, applying for, and eligibility for CPT. This meeting is not about optional practical training. Room 120, noon.

QTIPS Workshop: Social Media and LinkedIn Check-up

See Monday's entry for full details. Room 222, 12:30 p.m.

CIPR Mock Interview Event and Reception

This annual event is a collaboration between the Center for Intellectual Property Research and the Intellectual Property Association. The evening is structured so that students have the opportunity to participate in several short mock interviews with IP practitioners. The event provides students with an important opportunity to gain critical professional experience. Mock interviews are to begin at 6:30 p.m. Participants should plan to meet in the Faculty Lounge by 6:15 p.m. A catered reception will begin at 7:30 p.m. in the Faculty Lounge and all IP students are welcome to attend the reception (even those not taking part in the mock interviews). Attorneys from Barnes & Thornburg, Bingham Greenebaum Doll, Covington & Burling, Faegre Baker Daniels, Jones Day, Krieg DeVault, and Middleton Reutlinger have all attended in the past. 1Ls with a strong interest in IP are given priority, but any law student is welcome to apply to participate. Students interested in taking part should contact Casey Nemecek (cnemecek@indiana.edu). Multiple rooms, 6:30 p.m.
